Proposed route puts Hazard 13 miles closer

The state highway department said today it has almost completed plans for the new route between Hazard and Whitesburg and hopes to let a contract for construction of a five-mile section of the road later this year.

The proposed new route will cut 13 and a half miles from the distance between Whitesburg and Hazard.

Highway Commissioner Henry Ward said public hearings will be held in Whitesburg and Hazard before the routing is made final. The new route is being surveyed by Henry Spalding, Hazard engineer, under a contract with the highway department.

Spalding told The Mountain Eagle today that the new route will be closely parallel to present Kentucky 15 from Hazard to Carrs Fork, where it will cross through a gap on Carrs Fork just above the mouth of the Creek. Then it will go up the river to Big Branch, from there to the mouth of Doty Branch, from Doty Branch to Blair Branch, across to Smoot Creek and Dry Fork and on into Whitesburg. Spalding said the road probably will join existing highway at the two bridges west of Whitesburg (on the Whitco road).

The new route would by-pass Sandlick Mountain, Marlowe, Bellcraft and Isom.

Commissioner Ward said first estimates of the cost of rebuilding the road between Whitesburg and Hazard put a $22 million dollar price tag on the project. Revised estimates put the cost at about $14 million dollars, he said.

Obviously, Ward said, the road will have to be built in sections, since the state's entire yearly allotment of federal road funds is only about $14 million dollars.

Spalding emphasized that the new route is only tentative and cannot be definite until after hearings are held. He said construction of a dam on Carrs Fork, proposed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, would not affect the proposed route, although it would cover several miles of existing road in the Sassafras area.

Ward anticipated some right-of-way troubles because the proposed route crosses some coal land. The state must have the rights of way cleared legally and ready for presentation to the US Bureau of Roads before it can obtain federal money to help with the construction, he said.

Ward and Spalding indicated the section from Blair Branch into Whitesburg was chosen for first construction because it could be tied into existing highways at each end and could be put into use as soon as it is completed. That section alone would cut several miles off the distance from Hazard to Whitesburg.

The state this week sold the last of the bonds needed to finance completion of the Eastern Kentucky Turnpike from Campton to Salyersville. Gov. Bert Combs said he hoped to dedicate all the sections of the turnpike before his term ends. The freeway from Campton to Whitesburg, of which the proposed new route is a part, will join the turnpike.

City may turn pink

Whitesburg may be a pink city next spring if members of the Whitesburg Lions Club succeed with a project now under way.

The Lions are selling pink dogwood trees and will give the proceeds to their sight-conservation fund. And while they benefit the fund, they will at the same time improve the looks of the city.

The trees are nursery stock, obtained from Tennessee Nurseries. Lions President Russell Price said Bristol and Wise Lions Clubs have conducted successful sales of the trees. The trees are 24 to 36 inches tall and arrive with their roots enclosed in dirt in a plastic bag. Complete planting directions are enclosed.

Several hundred of the trees already have been sold, including several dozen to schools and churches. Club members will take orders and will deliver the trees. A truck will be on Main Street during the afternoons to sell the trees also.

Each tree costs $1.75.

X-RAY UNIT WILL BE HERE TUESDAY

The Kentucky State Department of Health's X-Ray Mobile Unit will be in Whitesburg on Tuesday March 27. All contacts of known tuberculosis cases should be x-rayed, as well as school employees, and restaurant workers. Only persons over 20 years of age will be x-rayed unless they are sent to the X-Ray Unit with a written statement from their family physician.

BUCKS FOR BOOKS--Plans for a drive for funds to buy new books for the Letcher County Public Library were discussed at a meeting at the library Monday night by (left to right) Mrs. Harry M. Caudill, chairman of the library board; Miss Phyllis Ann Bowling, county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. John Nease and Mrs. Charles Gilley, representing one of several county Homemakers' clubs which will take part in a house-to-house canvass for money. The drive will be held during the week of April 8-15, which is National Library Week. An open house at the library and window exhibits in downtown stores also are planned. (Eagle photo).

WHAT HE SAW--When Sheriff Lewis Hall (right) looked into the trunk of this car driven by a suspect in a burglary, here's what he found (left)--a set of tools of the type used by professional burglars. The car was driven by Galen McIntosh of Alexandria, Va., who is accused of breaking into the Whitesburg post office last Thursday night. Two other suspects, both from Letcher County, also were arrested. Hall identified them as Jack Combs, Tunnel Hill, and Manuel Lucas, Dry Fork. Combs was picked up by state police at Hazard; Lucas surrendered in Cincinnati. McIntosh was arrested here when Postmaster R. C. Blackey A REPORT ON FORMER LETCHER PEOPLE NOW RESIDENTS OF LINCOLN COUNTY

By LARRY CAUDILL

James Caudill, was up from Waynesburg for a visit with his brother, Beckham Caudill, the James Fieldes, the Marion Stammers and others. James reported on the good health and well being of the many Letcher Countians who have migrated to Lincoln County over the last generation. Among them are Charlie Ross, Mrs. Susan Fields, Aaron Ison, Dewey Fields, Dundee, Bernie and Vassie Caudill, Lenvil, Simeon and George Hale. The removal of families to the south central area of the state was not premeditated, they say. James believes it all started when Squire Watts moved from Campbell's Branch to the Waynesboro area to farm. The others followed. Must be a hundred Letcher people in Lincoln County, from Stanford down to Waynesburg, now, James said. "They're running over into Casey and Pulaski counties and most doing well. The Don Blairs came from the military post in Ohio to join in the family's observance of the 88th birthday of Nando Cornett. A frayed, yellowed copy of the Mountain Eagle of 1910 contains a biographical sketch of a venerable and respected Letcher Countyman Stephen G. Fairchild. It notes that he was born in Russell County, Va., in 1864, moved in 1874 to Letcher County on Sandlick, where he still lives. After public schooling, Steve taught for five years then took up the study of Engineering. He became a surveyor in 1887. He surveyed lands over most of Letcher, Harlan, Leslie and Perry Counties and in Knott County even before the latter was formed. He now is 98 years old. Old friends like Bill Walters and Tommy Dixon of Blackey recall serving with Uncle Steve on many surveying assignments.

WINS GRANT--Alvin B. Webb, a teacher at Burdine School, received a National Science Foundation grant for study in science teaching for eight weeks at the University of Kentucky next summer. He is at present taking an extension course from UK at Whitesburg and is working on his Master of Science degree.

SOME CAN MOVE AND SOME CAN'T AS FLU EPIDEMIC CONTINUES TO RAGE

By LOVELL CAUDILL

With the flu raging around here, some can move while some sit still. As for one, Mrs. Jim Caudill has been sitting still; she spent a few days at Mt. Mary hospital at Hazard with flu and pleurisy, but is home now feeling better.

Those that were on the moving list were James and Nina Mae Caudill. He completed his term in the Marines and moved from Camp Lejeune, N. C., to Indianapolis, Ind., where they plan to work. This was the first time for Grandpa Jim to see his first grandchild; she is a fine girl named Sheri Lynn.

Aunt Phoebe Dixon is in the Whitesburg Memorial hospital, we sure wish for her brighter days.

Patsy Howard and Mildred Mitchell visited Lowell Caudill Tuesday in search of flowers, looks like they are landscaping a bit.

Sallie Brown has been on the shut eye list too. Last week she had a very bad infected eye which lasted for several days. But she is a lot better this week.

O. T. Brown was home last week. He came in handy as chief cook for his mom while here. He also visited the rest of the family.

Mrs. Jim Caudill says the get well cards she received while sick went a long way with her. But the one from Mable Jo Buttrey was lucky to come after she got home, saying "Hens on strike, Hogs not stopped, but worst of all the pup had give up. That Beagle pup is boss around that house."

Little Marquette Brown doesn't feel too good this week. Her fast movements have slowed down with cold and high temperature.

We are very sorry to learn that Larry Hampton, the grandson of W. H. and Maggie Brown, has been so sick, he has under gone surgery for a kidney ailment. We certainly hope Larry can be up and going soon and come on home. They live in Indianapolis, Ind. We also wish brighter days for the parents, Timmy and Pauline.

Letcher native dies in Idaho

Mrs. Caroline (Callie) Fields of Castleford, Idaho, died Wednesday February 21, according to word received here.

Born on Long Branch at Whitesburg Kentucky, February 10, 1879, she married James R. Fields at Whitesburg June 27, 1901.

They lived on Big Cowan Creek and raised their family there. They moved to St. Mary, Kas. in 1927 and resided there until 1935, when they moved to Crossville, Mo. where they lived until 1938 when they moved Idaho. They lived at Priest River, Idaho, until 1950, when they moved to Castleford.

Mr. Fields died in March of 1961.

Survivors include four sons, Stanley Fields Castleford; Rufus Fields, Buhl, Idaho; Russel Fields St. Marys, Kas. and Maj. Paul Fields, Fallbrook, Calif.; three daughters Mrs. Mabel Cramer, Boise, Idaho; Mrs. Walter Broerman, Cincinnati, Ohio and Mrs. Dave Garybeal, Castleford; and the following brothers and sisters: Delman Long, Gordon, Ky.; Jim Long, Alice Long and Mrs. Maggie Owens, all of Eskridge, Kas., and Mrs. George Woodward Waterville, Kas. There are 20 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Fields was a member of the Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Friday, Feb. 23, at the Buhl, Idaho Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Norman D. Van Slyke, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Sun Set Memorial Park in Twin Falls, Idaho.

Blair Branch RESIDENTS VISIT IN LEXINGTON AND WINCHESTER

One their way back they stopped in Portsmouth, Va., where they were guests of two other sons, Jimmie and Claude Franklin. Mrs. Brown is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Elbert Bentley of Haymond, while Bill is doing some fishing.

Please excuse this column if we happen to get out of our territory with the news, but when our friends call it in to us, all we know to do is to publish it abroad. The writer is a bad hand to keep secrets.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prince and family drove to Irvine, Ky., Sunday to pay a visit to Mrs. Coy New. Mrs. Prince also went to Indianapolis, Ind., this week to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Delph.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lake Mann were Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart of Pound, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. James William of Haymond.

We extend our sympathy to Dee Vanover, and to all his family, in the death of Mr. Vanover's father on Friday at Bold Camp, Va. The funeral was Monday.

Ray Arnold of Ohio was in to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Haynes Arnold. Mr. Bill Williams was in from Ohio to see his sister, Mrs. Erma Fay Meade of Neon.

A very lucky man is Lawson Brown, Van; he came last Sunday on his 47th birthday to visit his parents, the Bennie Browns, and there was mom cooking him a birthday supper; mom never forgets. Besides Mr. Brown there were his daughter, Jeanette; brother, A. J. Brown, and his wife and daughters, Linda and Shiela from Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown, Emily, Charlie, and Bobby; G. L. Brown and Cinda and Mrs. Myra Wright. I couldn't believe Mrs. Brown had a son 47, she looked so younger; self but she said she did. I do know something--we never get to old to go and eat mommie's cooking.

FOOD 'SPECIALS' CAN SAVE YOU MONEY --IF YOU SHOP FOR THEM CAREFULLY

LEXINGTON, KY. -- Can you save money by buying the "special" at your local food market? All "specials" are not good deals for every family, but, if you shop carefully, you can find many good ones, says Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK extension specialist in consumer marketing.

Weekly and weekend specials are commonplace in today's food markets. Every week, most grocery stores and supermarkets feature items for less than their regular price. Stores use them to attract customers, hoping to sell not only the "specials" but other items at regular prices.

Mrs. Jasper lists some factors to keep in mind when shopping for food "specials."

Has the price really been lowered? Usually it has, but not always. Is the item of the quality you want? Make sure lower prices are not based on lower quality. Remember that quality of products can vary, especially on perishable items, making it difficult to compare prices. Comparison is easier on brand items.

Is the item for brand one that you normally use and are familiar with? If you experiment with a new item or brand, buy only a small amount. Does your family like the item? Unless the family will eat the food, buying a special saves no money.

What size package is the "special"? Don't buy more than you can use in a reasonable length of time or more than you can store properly. Prices may be lowered by long home storage. And don't overstock on an item that may be headed for lower prices. Regular prices on some items vary during seasons of heavy or low supply.

Also decide whether it's worth while to shop for "specials" at several stores. Watch money savings against possible added shopping time and transportation costs from one store to another, Mrs. Jasper recommends.

IF YOU'RE ADDING A FAMILY ROOM THIS SPRING, BE SURE IT FITS THE NEEDS OF YOUR FAMILY; HERE ARE CHECKING POINTS

LEXINGTON, KY. -- Family rooms are becoming more popular each year in modern homes, according to Kathryn Sebree, UK Extension specialist in home furnishings. If you want to include a family room in your new home or to change some room in your present home to a family room, Miss Sebree gives these suggestions to help with your planning.

First, the family room should fit the needs of your family, she points out. You'll want to plan space for the hobbies, games and music your family enjoys and you may want to include places for cooking, serving and eating. Don't forget space for television viewing. If your TV will be in this room. Most parents with small children or teenagers have special need for a family room, so, if your family has such young members, be sure to keep their activities in mind when planning.

Because this room should be just what the name says -- a room for the family, all family members should have a part in planning and carrying out the family room project. Remember, too, that the room should be informal, casual, comfortable, and easy to care for.

Where should the family room be located? The basement, the garage, an enclosed porch, an expanded breezeway, the attic, or even a room in the first floor are possibilities, she says. If you choose a room from which sounds can carry to other parts of the house, some insulation will help keep other rooms quieter. An insulated ceiling in a basement family room cuts down the noise that might filter upstairs. You can buy such insulation in blocks and install it yourself.

Family room floors and floor coverings need to be easy to care for. In many homes, tile is used especially if this room is in the basement. Be sure to use a tile that moisture will not damage. A light-to-medium color is less likely to show soil. Don't plan to have a "spotted floor," such as a checker board type, for your family will easily tire of it, she warns. You might also use a fiber rug or braided rug on the floor of this room.

The location of the family room has much to do with the wall treatment needed. If it is in the basement, choose a light colored paint that resists moisture. Some other materials that may be used depending on the room's location, are stone, brick or wood paneling (pine, birch, etc.). Or you can use paper on the walls of some rooms.

A family room really isn't a new idea; we've had rooms similar to this for several years, Miss Sebree notes. Such rooms have been called the recreation room, the rumpus room, the den, the music room, the hobby room, the multipurpose room, and so family to enjoy. This is the first thing to remember when making your plans, she concludes.

A new way to serve potatoes and franks

LEXINGTON, KY. -- Here's a new quick way to serve two favorite foods -- frankfurters and mashed potatoes. Youngsters, especially, like this easy-to-fix dish; and you'll find it a good way to perk up left-over mashed potatoes, according to USDA home economists.

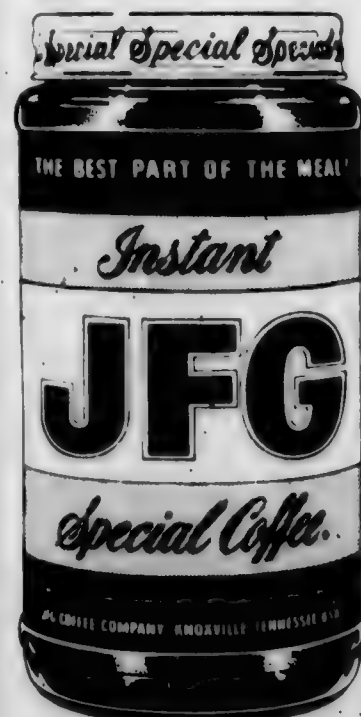

For four servings, you'll need 8 frankfurters, 2 cups hot or cold seasoned mashed potatoes, 1/2 to 3/4 cup grated cheese, and paprika. Split the frankfurters lengthwise almost through; spread them open; and place the cut side up on a greased baking sheet.

Heap mashed potatoes on the frankfurters, using 1/4 cup for each one. Sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika. Heat in a hot oven (400 degrees) for about 15 minutes.

SERGENTS ARE DINNER GUESTS OF DELMAR KINCERS; SEVERAL WHO HAVE BEEN SICK ARE ABLE TO BE UP AND ABOUT AGAIN

By MABEL KISER

The Sam Sergents attended Mayking Regular Baptist Church Sunday. After church they went home with Mrs. Sergeant's sister and her husband, the Delmar Kincers, for dinner, and to see the Kincer's new grandbaby, Bobby Kincer's son Bobby Darrell. Both Bobby and Mrs. Kincer work at Dawahare Department Store.

Bonnie Craft and little daughter called on the Sam Sergents this week.

Mrs. Sam Sergeant and daughter Mrs. Bruce Sanders were shopping in Pound, Va. Monday.

The Bruce Sanders and boys had dinner with the Sam Sergents Friday. Nobody, and I do mean nobody, cooks quite as good as grandma.

Allen Bentley, Neon, spent the week end with grandma Della Bentley and uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Elize Bentley. Allen also visited Mrs. Bonnie Craft, Billy and Candice.

Some good news to report at Democrat this week. Some sick folk are able to be out. Mrs. Lizzie Williams and Mrs. Carl Anderson were able to attend Sunday School, and Mrs. Nora Collins is out of the hospital and home. Welcome home, Nora.

Mrs. John Martin and Lenora attended Little Dove Regular Baptist Church at Cornett Hill March 10.

Lenora Martin, Ritter Ann and Charles Cook attend Saturday classes at Eastern State College, Richmond. Lenora will graduate at the end of the summer term and will get her degree.

A very surprised man was John Sergeant last Sunday afternoon. John was sick and had to go to doctor Sunday morning and when he returned there was a big birthday cake and everything else that goes with a birthday dinner. His children were all there, Mr. and Mrs. Stevie Sergeant and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kiser and family, Mr. and Mrs. Estil Sergeant and children, Arthur Sergeant and Ollie Tolliver. Mrs. Margery Kiser baked the cake and it was real good. Let us hope John was better Sunday night and not sick--er from eating too much birthday dinner.

Louie Martin and wife spent Saturday night with his grandfather, Will Proffitt, Thorton.

Calling on the James Tolliver Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bentley and Edgar Bunder and children.

The Martins had their only child William and wife and children home for dinner Sunday.

Luther Martin is visiting in Indiana with his daughters, Mrs. Eugene Asher (Bertha), and Miss Louise Martin. The girls are employed in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and Lenora attended Blair Branch

Church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Collier were home from Detroit this week end to visit Mrs. Collier's parents, the Dewey Collinses, and Mr. Collier grandfather.

Sunday afternoon guests of Miss Alkie Sergeant were her brother Bob and his wife, Deane, and Bob's father-in-law, Leonard Bentley and Mr. and Mrs. James Baker and daughter, Carlene, Sanklick.

Mrs. Willis Martin and daughters, Margaret Fay and Shery Reana, went to see Mrs. Martin's parents the Floyd Cooks, Whitesburg. What a treat to visit grandma, especially to find her doing so well after being sick so long.

Little Pat Wright celebrated her twelfth birthday on St. Patrick's day by having some of her friends in to eat cake. Among those present were Ann Williams, Hazel Aundra Adams, Carol, Jerry, Kenneth, Richard and Margaret Richardson and Dannie Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Richardson and children were visiting in Haymond Sunday with Herman and Marge Hall also calling on the Halls were Mrs. Nolla Richardson, son Can, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Cook and family Deane.

Sunday dinner guests of the John Wrights were the Willard Smiths and Mrs. Nettie Combs, Arlie Jr., Marcelle and her grandmother, Mary Jane Hall, all of Red Fox.

Mrs. Perl Combs son, William Edward Pennington, has had a promotion in his job in Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. Pennington does clerical work.

Uncle Mack Combs tells us of another time he saw a ghost. When he was a young man he happened to be out one night and on the way home he had to pass a graveyard that was haunted. He was scared half to death to begin with, looking right and left and behind him. Sure enough just as he neared the graveyard down the hill slowly but surely toward Uncle Mack walked a man. Nearer and nearer he came so Uncle Mack started to run; the man ran too, just behind him and he thought this time he was a goner for sure. Just as he thought he couldn't run any farther, he ran across the creek into a deep hole of water as he had forgotten about it being there. Wet now from head to toe and madder than scared he decided he may just as well stand and take it as to run and catch it, so he swam out to fight the ghost and puff, he was gone, completely disappeared. A sober and wet young man went home wondering. After about 60 years Uncle Mack can laugh about his dunking now but he still shudders about the ghost he saw.

Mrs. Maude Castle has only one flaw in her overflowing cup of happiness this week. All her children except one son were home and all sat at mother's table Sunday to enjoy a good old time dinner. Freddy could not be there. There were Sam and his wife and daughters, Elizabeth Ann, Day, Sondra Sue, and Lynn all from Elymra, Ohio; Carl from Cleveland, and his fiancée, Louis, Pennington, Whitesburg; Mrs. Earl Amburgey, and Mrs. Arnold Amburgey (Mildred). They all had such an enjoyable time; this was the first time they had been together in around two years. Everyone talked at once. I am sure they all thought of you, Freddy, especially mother. We hope they will all come back again when you come home. Other visitors of Mrs. Castle were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Belt, Wakeman, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yonts, Mrs. Annette Youngblood, Ann of Neon, H. LLOYD MEADES RETURN FROM VISIT WITH CHILDREN IN OHIO; WILLARD FULTONS VISIT AT HAYMOND

By MABEL KISER

The Lloyds Meades have returned from their visit to Cincinnati with their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Green (Joy). On the way up there it began to snow and they had to use chains; the Ohio river was so out of bounds that route #52 was closed and they had to detour and were nine hours getting there. They had an enjoyable visit with their grandchildren but left them with the mumps and chicken-pox. While in Cincinnati Mrs. Meade did some shopping and came home with some nice new spring clothes. Their son, Ben Arnold, went with them and went on to Columbus, Ohio, and got his licenses to barber. He is now a full fledged barber. I thought all one had to do to barber was to learn to cut hair, but James Arnold says barber students study about many things, such as the nervous system, muscular system, bone structure, circulatory system, respiratory system, digestive system, dermatology and diseases. It takes seven months to complete the course. The student spend 2 1/2 hours per day in class rooms and 5 1/2 hours in actual practice. A barber, too, must be a good conversationalist, be interested in all kinds of sports and never talk about religion or politics. I used to wonder why a barber had to have a high school diploma—now I know.

Friday night Dona Farley had for company her friend, Phyllis Dagnon.

The Tilden Wrights never did get to go to Florida because of the illness of both of them. They are both much improved at this time; they are not well, but have been able to attend church.

Tilden Wright and sons Charley and S. T. Jr. drove to Lexington last week. Charley and S. T. Wright were on business; the elder Mr. Wright went to see a doctor.

Jessie Edward Collier has just returned from a visit with his brother, S/Sgt. Ballard Collier, Ft. Knox. Sgt. Collier has just returned from a stay in Korea.

Calling on the Otho Bentleys were Mrs. Sam Bentley and Mrs. Karo Bentley, Payne Gap. The Bentleys had been visiting Mrs. Karo Bentley's sister, Mrs. Nettie Taylor, in the Memorial Hospital.

Visiting the Ed Taylors this week is Mr. Taylors sister, Mrs. Net Mason, Hindman. I was very glad to see Mrs. Mason looking so good. She is retired now and enjoying a much deserved rest; for years she was employed by the Hindman Settlement School.

Mrs. Stella Salyers is home after surgery in Bethesda Hospital in Cincinnati. Stella is the daughter of Otho Bentley.

Mrs. Alex Proffitt tells us her sister-in-law, Mrs. Herman Crase, is in the hospital in Louisville seriously ill with a kidney ailment. Mrs. Crase had one of her kidneys removed several years ago. She is the daughter of J. S. Webb, formerly of Thornton.

Thelma Proffitt Blight is doing just fine after an appendectomy in Cleveland. Thelma is the daughter of Joe and Rebecca Fulton Proffitt.

Georgine Evens Back, on leave from nurses training, Lexington, has been visiting her husband in Michigan City, Ind. They are both now visiting Mrs. Back's parents the A. C. Evens, prior to her returning to nurses school, Lexington.

After visiting here last week Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones (Ruby) had a bad car wreck on the way home. Their car was damaged considerably; they had to call for her brother and brother-in-law Ben Keth and J. D. Smedley to come and get them. They were not injured too bad but son Garry is still on crutches.

Mrs. Faye Bentley was the week end guest of the Paul Farleys.

Uncle Strawther has been plagued with sudden flares of high temperature since he lost his leg sometime ago. This time for a short time his temperature reached 108. He will return to his home on Crafts Colly as soon as he is able to travel. Mrs. Proffitt is doing very well.

Three of the Willard Fultons children called Sunday, Jean and Ruth called from Florida. Jean was celebrating her 13th birthday, which was a happy occasion, but son Robert called from Cleveland and had bad news—his little daughter, two-year-old Sandra Kaye, had measles and developed pneumonia. We are sorry, Robert, and sincerely hope little Sandra will soon be well again.

Joe Proffitt, Sr., Conrad, Carolyn and baby came home from Cleveland Friday. Mrs. Proffitt stayed in Cleveland with Mrs. Thelma Bright, and the other children. Mrs. Proffitt will be home later when Thelma gets better.

Blaine and I went to Hazard Sunday and had dinner with Baline's brother, Willis, and his family and their new baby girl Teunea. The baby was just home from the Miners Memorial Hospital where she spent 13 days. She is doing just fine now and Shevevie is proud of her little sister. Mrs. Rushie Sheehee and Mrs. Dela Holbrook, of Tolliver Town, was there and we had an enjoyable visit.

No matter how often I go to Hazard there are two scenes that never fail to awe me. One is a short stretch of road just below Smithsboro. This is one of the most beautiful scenes I have ever seen. The large majestic, sycamore trees that stand tall and erect between the road and the river reaching haughtily to the sky seem to defy the ravages of time and the ebb and flow of the treacherous and fickle Kentucky River. I never fail to think of the poet's words, "Poems are made by fools like me, but only God can make a tree."

The other scene is that of the Kentucky Power Plant at Lothair. The power that man has learned to harness. We sure have come a long way since old man Ben Franklin used a kite to capture a little lightning in a bottle. Man uses the force of nature, but only God can create it.

I noticed, too, how the strip mines had marred and scarred the face of our beautiful mountains. How destructive is man in his greed. What will be left for our grandchildren?

Mr. and Mrs. Letcher Short, Whitco, were in Millstone Sunday admiring the new home of Bob and Doretha Johnson. The Johnsons built a lovely new home on the same site as their old one, which was destroyed by fire some time back.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Fugate and daughter and some friends of Harlan spent the day Sunday with Mrs. Eva Kincer, Whitaker.

The Tollivers will spend some time visiting their daughter and will move the trailer they have to Somerset where they plan to spend the summer hunting and fishing.

Mrs. Edd Miracle and children, Rachelle and Glenn Melvin, (Mrs. Jack Franklin's sister) were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Ben Franklin Sunday. The Franklins are good people and interesting to talk with, so have lots of company.

Mrs. Ellis Johnson is home from

TO THE EDITOR

The Crocus are in bloom, have you taken time to stop and look? Song birds are back, have you taken time to stop and listen? Spring is just around the corner. Does not a crisp sunny day like this one make you want to dig in the good earth?

This spring let each of us help to make our community a more beautiful place in which to live by having our lawn, our house, our garden, our river bank looking trim and neat. I am sure our city officials, our state highway department, churches, schools and civic clubs will do their part to help make our community more beautiful. The Lions club is in the process of selling five hundred pink dogwoods. When in bloom, they will be lovely. Did you feed any birds this winter? Have you prepared any nesting sites for our harbingers of spring? Are you going to prepare a bit of earth to produce a splash of vivid color so that when tourists drive through this summer they will say, "This is a nice, well kept community."
